

Similar to Step One, you need to print two copies of this page. One with the full instructions to read and the second to place on you or the persons chest, face down, so the body can absorb the information. See the demo healing video in section H. Doreen Virtue's book, "Archangels and Ascended Masters" lists Angels for every ailment if there is something specific you want to focus on. If you booked a follow up consultation with me, I can provide you with specific details like this and much more.

Modify the page as required. Beginners need not worry about the complexity. When you document your instructions and intentions in advance, the Angels use the Akashic Records to check for scheduled events requiring their attendance. They come, it simply works and the energy flows!

The first part of this page you update with your information and delete his/her/my accordingly.

The second part is the important section where you document exactly what you need to fix. Be accurate and specific. Spirit knows your intentions. Do not try to fix too many problems in the same one session, especially if the problems are serious. Go back in again if need be another day to complete. You can also use this page to command the Universe deliver your wish and desire for health, happiness and abundance into your life. List your realistic goals. Make cards instructing your wish desire and command as shown in my Power of Words article, to keep on your person by day and under your pillow by night. Begin to visualize the damage being repaired. Take your time, just like a surgeon performing medical surgery. You can download medical diagrams of the body you need to repair. These pictures are very effective increasing your powers of visualization and intention.

Use your third eye on the patient or yourself as a laser of light and sound waves to freeze, burn, cauterize or massage active cells back to normal health and happiness. If working on yourself visualize the Angels repairing you. You will likely feel a warm sensation in the area of your body whilst this is taking place. This work will manifest over the coming days. Reprogram your mind set and let the energy run.

Stem cells: With damaged organs, muscles, bone or tissue, you can energetically take Healthy Stem Cells from the inner naval and inject into the damaged areas for additional healing. You can also take cells from the testis in men and the ovaries in women. Bone marrow is another good place to draw stem cells if not contaminated by prolonged unhealthy or negative lifestyle. Depending upon the severity of your problems, you might want to do the stem cell healing a few days after initial repair work as a powerful follow up to speed up recovery. If you do not have healing experience, I can answer questions like this within our consultation. If you did not purchase the program with the consultation, contact me if you need to my help.

These videos help explain the medical world of Stem Cells to improve your technique.

I command we draw into my Divine Syringe, healthy blueprint stem cells as designed by our Creator of all that is from the inner naval/testis/ovaries of (Client). When full, these stem cells are to wait and receive instructions for modification before injection into (Client's) body.

I command the Blueprint Stem Cells in the Divine Syringe modify into Pluripotent Stem Cells for repairing /rejuvenating/regenerating the damaged organs/muscles/bone/tissue back to perfect optimal function as originally intended.

It is commanded: Modify Now.

(Pause and sense when modification is complete)

Modification is complete.

I command we use my Divine Syringe with a needle to inject the modified stem cells into the damaged organs/muscles/bone/tissue. Several small injections from the one syringe can be made in the general area needing repair if necessary. The stem cells will stop flowing from the syringe only when application is complete.

It is commanded: Apply the modified stem cells now.

(Pause and sense when application is complete)

Application is complete. Disconnect my Divine Syringe.

It is commanded: The applied modified stem cells will continue to multiply at this site until full healing is complete and multiply again as necessary, to continuously produce optimal function, for as long as required within the guidelines of the Universe.

I thank all who contributed their assistance in this healing session for (Client).

It is done. It is done. It is done.

Thank you, with Love and Gratitude.

This is an example page I used to successfully remove multiple fibroid cysts from this girl who was unable to pay for medical surgery. The doctors gave her medication to help with the inflammation and pain but it had little effect. Today, she is now pain free and has no cysts.

This is an example of steps one and two I used to repair heart and liver damage also by transplanting healthy stem cells. The client was bedridden for three weeks before the healing. The following day he was able to get up unattended, bathe, sit on the porch and enjoy his breakfast. The healing manifests over days and sometimes weeks just like the recovery period after medical operations.

With this healing above, for the heart and liver, I sensed good results towards the heart but felt working on the liver in the same session was maybe too much and the liver did not get so much attention. Hence, do not take on too many serious problems in the first session. You can always go back in again another day and work on other areas.

If working on serious cancer problems, you might do well to clear the cancer in the first session and go back in a few days later with stem cell healing to aid recovery.

This is an example page printed the day before a breast reduction surgery was due to take place. The client read the page just before going in for the surgery. The surgery went without complications and the doctors were exceptionally impressed with the patient's speedy recovery.
